

National Women's History Month events among 20 special programs at the museums of the State of Delaware during March 2016

(DOVER, Del.—Feb. 17, 2016)—The Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs will be hosting 20 special events during the month of March 2016 at the museums of the State of Delaware. Seven of these programs will be presented in celebration of National Women's History Month. A full schedule is included below. All programs are free and open to the public.

Operatic soprano Rosa Ponselle will be one of the divas featured at the Johnson Victrola Museum on March 5, 2016.

Highlights of the month include “From Prima Donnas to Divas: A Victor Creation,” a program by museum interpreters Susan Emory and Bridget Wallace that examines the talented female vocalists of the Victor Talking Machine Company and how they paved the way for the divas of today, accompanied by 78-rpm recordings of those artists played on authentic Victor Talking Machines. Programs will take place on Saturday, March 5 at 10 a.m., 2 and 3 p.m. in the 2nd floor gallery (entry via staircase; no elevator) of the Johnson Victrola Museum located at 375 S. New St. in Dover.

Throughout the month, the John Dickinson Plantation, located at 340 Kitts Hummock Road in Dover, will present “A Woman’s World,” a series of programs that explore the daily responsibilities of 18th-century women and the domestic skills that they were expected to possess. “A Woman’s World” programs will take place on March 5, 12, 19 and 26.

Historic-site interpreters Vertie Lee (left) and Barbara Carrow portray two of the women who lived and worked at the John Dickinson Plantation.

Finally, on Saturday, March 12 at 1 p.m., the New Castle Court House Museum, located at 211 Delaware St., in New Castle, will present “Songs of a Faithful People,” a program in which Valarie Petty Boyer, Ph.D. utilizes songs and the spoken word to tell the story of an enslaved woman escaping to freedom via the Underground Railroad.

Designated by joint resolutions of the United States House of Representatives and Senate and proclaimed by six American presidents, National Women’s History Month is an opportunity to honor and celebrate women’s lives and historic achievements. Each year National Women’s History Month employs a unifying theme and recognizes national honorees whose work and lives testify to that theme. For 2016, the theme is “Working to Form a More Perfect Union: Honoring Women in Public Service and Government.”

Administered by the Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs, the five museums of the state of Delaware—the John Dickinson Plantation, the Johnson Victrola Museum, the New Castle Court House Museum, The Old State House and the Zwaanendael Museum—tell the story of the First State’s contributions to the history and culture of the United States. Through displays, exhibits and special programs, the museums explore how the state’s distinctive physical environment, in combination with the people who came to live there, gave Delaware an identity that is different from any other place. Go to the following for a comprehensive, long-term calendar of museum events.
